Mr. Pendicton.

We publish this morning a communication signed "Diomed." It is written by as able and prominent citizen of Kentucky, and, s will be seen, warmly advocates the nomination of Mr. P ndiel n.

We regret that the writer has deemed it a eary to reprove the position taken by the Courtes on this question. We think that if the ardent advocacy of his favorite he has no sutentionally been unjust to the Country. It is intimated that our course has done injusto the cause of Mr. Pendicton, and that d ded friends of that gentleman "derire the ome remedy shall be administered who will go straight after the poison." It is our ceded that we declare that Mr. Pendleton ceded that we declare that Mr. Pendicton is our "first choice for the Presidency," but it assems to be charged that we announce this choice as "a sart of abstract preference—not to be thought of practicallt," and that we have published numbershably one opinion "that he can anyer receive the nomination." We think the gallant writer of the artachas, in more respects than one, nunconcalved the position of the Cot array. It lates that we have, at times, published articles from D-mooratic papers which intimated a preference for others than Mr. Pendicton. The question of the nomination is still an ourse question of the nomination is still an open one, and it is therefore propertial it should be discussed in an amicable spirit. While our position is that of the Kentucky Demo our position is that of the Kentucky Democracy, we do not think it in the lateret of Mr. I adde to to are his claums in a dogus ited sparit. Other candidates have friends who are as devotedly attached to them as Mr. Pendleton's friends ar to bim. If the says porters of each of these candidates ner, it would not tend to in of our ticket.
